

Mediation Services

As a part of the formal employee grievance process, mediation is available for full-time employees who have filed a formal grievance. Both parties must agree to mediation. A trained mediator will be assigned and will act as a neutral facilitator to work towards a mutually satisfactory agreement between both parties. See employee grievance policy for grievance and mediation request deadlines: <http://www.slcc.edu/policies/docs/c2s03-06.pdf>

Mediation services outside of the employee grievance process are available under certain circumstances. Please contact Employee Relations for more information: (801)957-4212 or (801)957-3784.
